ECONOMIC REFERENCES
MARKETING INFORMATION FOR CONSUMERS 1/

The sources of economic information at the national level exhaust the imagination. Any list is bound to be incomplete. The following suggestions were chosen as being of particular use to workers in the field of marketing information for consumers. Each of you will want to supplement this list with other sources of his special interest.

In general, publications are available from the agency producing them. You may obtain Agricultural Marketing Service materials by writing to their Marketing Information Division. If you wish to be added to the mailing list for any of the AMS reports marked with an asterisk (*), send your request to the Administrative Service Division (ML), Agricultural Marketing Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C.

Except for the Bureau of the Census, publications of the Department of Commerce are generally available from their Sales and Distribution Office, Room 6327, U. S. Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C. The Bureau of the Census handles its own mailing, so requests for census information should be addressed directly to the Bureau.

When ordering items for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., make your check or money order payable to the Superintendent of Documents.

The U. S. Departments of Agriculture, Labor, Interior, and Commerce maintain field offices. Many of the publications may be available from the field office in your area. A listing of these offices is attached.
